

DDH IPA collaboration w/Al

HELLO UNIVERSE!

The young man from the Milky Way had lost himself and was tormented by a hollow heart. Without confidence and unable to find hope for the future, he decided to visit Master Kashay, the teacher of the Fire Dojo, in search of a place to anchor his soul. Upon setting foot on Mars, the young man threw himself into the grueling training, struggling to rediscover himself and find out what he truly wanted. And then, a fateful encounter awaited him. Meeting with Uchu Sensei brought about a significant turning point in the young man's life. Uchu Sensei taught him that he himself was the universe and already had everything he needed. These words were deeply engraved in the young man's heart, and he came to realize that he was a great being and the creator of himself. Recognizing himself as a Uchu Master, he ultimately caused the Big Bang and created a new universe. What mattered most to him was to love himself and find inner satisfaction. He unleashed his potential and found his own mission. He could now inspire and give courage to others to find themselves. Having found himself, he exerted his inner power and was able to create a new universe. The reason he realized his dream was that he had found himself and could guide others. The young man learned that finding inner satisfaction was necessary to live a fulfilling life, and he discovered the light within himself. It was up to him to seize freedom in this world. You are the Universe!

UCHU BREWING